Many people today are frustrated by religious institutions and organizations that have failed them. Still, they know there is a divine presence that is vital to their existence and want to know this presence intimately. Consider walking along with me in your spiritual journey. Allow me to hold your hand. Whatever your faith background, cultural origins, gender identity, sexual orientation, challenges you face, questions you ponder, I offer a safe, sacred space for you to relax in the presence of the divine and explore its place in your life.

A graduate of the FIND School for Spiritual Direction, I am also a Licensed Unity Teacher. While my own beliefs are based in New Thought teachings, I embrace the essential, universal truths that all major religions offer. I offer spiritual direction virtually.
